Hampton History Museum hosts November events, Streetcar 390 Open House

Hampton, VA –The Hampton History Museum and partners will offer several exciting events in November. A talk about cultural landmarks and monuments of Eastern Virginia by author and historian Bryan Hatchett and a concert by singer/songwriter Jacob Vanko will be hosted on Facebook Live. Hampton Streetcar 390 Project is hosting an in-person open house showcasing the progress of the Streetcar 390 restoration. The Hampton Carousel will be adorned in festive decorations for “Winter Whimsy” before they close for winter.

Virtual Talk: Tidewater Spirit: Cultural Landmarks, Monuments & History of Eastern Virginia

Monday, November 1, 7 p.m.

Join Bryan Hatchett as he discusses the cultural landmarks and monuments of Eastern Virginia. Tidewater lies east of the fall line of the Virginia rivers that flow into the Chesapeake—a definition that dates back to colonial times. Much of what we know of seventeenth- and eighteenth-century Tidewater comes from the writings of Captain John Smith, William Byrd II and Thomas Jefferson. Photographer and author Bryan Hatchett matches many of his stunning photographs in Tidewater Spirit with quotes from the celebrated writings of these three early Virginians

Jacob Vanko Virtual Concert

Wednesday, November 17, 6:00-8:00 p.m.

Singer/songwriter Jacob Vanko released his first full-length album, “Ten Years,” with his band at the Hampton History Museum in September 2019.

In describing his writing Vanko says, “The songs are all derived from personal life stories, people who have been a big part of my life and people I briefly crossed paths with. These songs are like chapters of one book out of a 10 book series. Some are just written from the perspective of a third party fly on the wall watching a small slice of middle-class life unfold. Some are built from feelings of redemption and ambition. Others poured out in the middle of a quiet, lonely night.”

Winter Whimsy at the Hampton Carousel
November 23—December 30
602 Settlers Landing Road

Make new holiday memories while enjoying festively adorned horses. The historic Hampton Carousel will be decked out for the season while playing special carousel Christmas music. Enjoy a free candy cane. Closed Mondays, Thanksgiving and Christmas. Take a ride on the carousel before it closes for winter!
